ROOSEVELT
ANNOUNCES
DISCOVERY

Ex-President Tells of the Hardships In Exploring
River of Doubt

WAS HIGHLY PLEASED

At Reception Accorded Him
in Washington—Confers With Progressive Leaders
and Will Take Active Part in Campaign.

NEW YORK, May 27.—"If anybody doubts the existence of that river
now his sincerity is open to question."

This was the comment of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt early today on his return here from Washington on the lecture he delivered there last night before the National Geographic society in which he officially announced the discovery of a heretofore unknown river in Brazil.

Colonel Roosevelt planned to remain in town today, spending some time at his editorial office where it was arranged to take his testimony
in the suit brought by Attorney Wales against John Mitchell for fees
he alleges are due for the part he took in settlement of the Pennsylvania coal strike of 1913. Col. Roosevelt expected to return to his home
in Oyster Bay late in the day.

Col. Roosevelt was highly elated at the reception accorded him in Washington and expressed pleasure
at having been able to meet again so many friends and acquaintances.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Former President Roosevelt's conference with members of the Progressive party in congress on political questions here
last night was an interesting topic of discussion in political circles in Washington today. In Progressive ranks it apparently was felt that Colonel Roosevelt had left much good cheer among his co-workers in the case in congress. Members of that party in congress were particularly pleased that he planned to participate in the forthcoming congressional campaign.

The outcome of the conference had been awaited with equal interest by politicians of all the other parties in congress. They, too, indulged in the discussions today. What effect, if any, Colonel Roosevelt's announced intention of taking part in the campaign would have on the plans of the other parties could not be foretold early today. It was believed, however, to forecast a more vigorous campaign
on their part.

Into nine hours Tuesday Roosevelt crowded a speech on his South American expedition, a call on President Wilson, a political conference with the Progressives in Congress,
a visit to the Smithsonian Institute to see the trophies from his African hunt of four years ago, a meeting with a few members of the Diplomatic Corps and a dinner with his old friends.

Besides there were many impromptu receptions from crowds in the railway station, at his hotel, in the streets and wherever else he chanced to stop for a moment.

The crowds, the cheers and the struggles to shake his hand were like old campaign days.

The Progressive members of Congress were at the party headquarters
to meet Roosevelt after the lecture
last night and to go over the political situation with him.

Colonel Roosevelt's visit with President Wilson was, perhaps, of greater interest to the public than any other event of the day.

The President and his predecessor talked most of every thing except politics. A good deal of the time was put in telling stories.

When the Colonel arrived at the Executive mansion he leaped out of his automobile with his old time vigor and walked quickly into the White House. There the president was waiting to receive him in the Red Room.

Speaking of travel, books, and telling stories, the two men enjoyed their meeting greatly. All controversial subjects were avoided, but the Colonel himself mentioned the "River of Doubt," which he discovered in Brazil and joked over the controversy about it.

Grosvonor, of the National Geographic Society.

Roosevelt, at the dinner, was proclaimed before a great body of scientists from many cities, as the "discoverer of a river in South America 1,000 miles long." He assumed the society that he had put this river on the map, and challenged all the cartographers in the world to dis-prove his achievement.

The Colonel had appeared before a Washington audience on a previous occasion as an explorer, but never as a discoverer, and he was cheered to the echo as he declared that the cartographers and geographers of all nations were wrong in their maps of the wilds of Brazil, wherein he found and traced the "Duvida River," or,
as now more familiarly known, the River of Doubt.

The Colonel described in detail the hardships of his trip into the Brazilian wilds, and particularly the hardships endured in navigating the rapids of the river of Doubt. In the upper part of the river, he said, the rapids
were so severe that it required 42 days for the party to traverse from 11:45 south to 10:45 south,
during that hazardous trip they lost
nearly all their food and belongings.

"We were forced to eat monkeys to eke out our rations," declared the Colonel.

BLINDFOLDED SELF
TO SHUT OUT SIGHT
OF DEATH CHAIR

Trenton, N. J., May 27.—To shut out the sight of the death chair and the witness, Rafaelo Longo, who was put to death in the state prison
here last night, insisted on blind-folding himself before leaving his cell.

The mask was not removed from his eyes and the black cap was adjusted over the mask. Longo never saw the death chair.

Longo was married in the death
house Monday night so that his wife,
to whom he had been joined by religious ceremony many years ago,
could obtain some property he possessed in Italy. His execution was for the murder of Antonio Migliore, his cousin, in Elizabeth, nearly two years ago.

SEND MAGAZINES
TO MARINES ALONG
COAST OF MEXICO

WASHINGTON, May 27.—To help the saloon and marines on duty along the Mexican coast to spend their spare moments profitably the navy department was planning today to send them magazines and other reading matter including, illustrated papers and is appealing to those who desired to assist in the work to select publications issued in April,
May and June. The request to send magazines and weekly publications to the "boys" was made to the department by a committee composed principally of the wives of the naval officers now in Mexican waters.

READY FOR THE ASSEMBLY OPENING

NEW CASTLE, Pa., May 27.—With several delegates already here and with many expected to arrive
during the day, all is in readiness for the opening meeting of the 1914
annual assembly of the United Presbyterian church here tonight. Last night, Rev. Dr. R. M. Russell, moderator of the assembly and President of Westminster College, conducted a preliminary prayer meeting
in the second United Presbyterian church. Business sessions will be held during the morning and afternoon until Saturday, when the lay and ministerial delegates will be taken to Westminster college, at New Wilmington to spend the day.

DERANGED MAN
HANGS SELF
FROM CHAIR

CLEVELAND, O., May 27.—Mentally unbalanced by the sudden death of his wife, Stanislaus Perchowski, forty-three,
was found early today by his wife, Mary, hanging from a strap, tied to the back of a chair in his home, 6516
Hoerner avenue.

Mrs. Perchowski awoke to find the body of her husband hanging beside the bed, with the knees drawn up to avoid contact with the floor.

HUERTA IS READY TO ABDICATE

Arrangements Delayed to Permit the Dictator to "Withdraw" With Dignity

NEUTRAL CONFERENCE

Held by the Constitutional-ist's Representative and John Lind—The Carranza Delegate May Participate in Mediation Conference.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Official despatches sent from Mexico City here today say the "withdrawal" of Huerta is "possible," and add that it is being delayed by the necessity of arrangements to permit the dictator to abdicate with dignity.

John Lind and C. A. Douglass, legal representative of the constitutionalists held what was termed a neutral conference early and later went to the state department to take up the subject with Secretary Bryan
who had gone to the capital to confer with Senators of the foreign relations committee. Their conference with the secretary, was on that account, deferred until later in the day.

Neither Mr. Lind nor Mr. Douglass would disclose under what conditions the constitutionalists were willing to participate, but the opinion was revived that the powers of a Carranza representative would be very limited, perhaps without plenary authority and only for the purpose of furnishing information. What sudden turn in the negotiations had brought the new attitude of the Carranza group was not disclosed.

Today's development, which undoubtedly was a direct outcome of the long conferences General Carranza has been holding over a special telegram wire with Emilio Zubaran,
his minister of the interior in charge
of the constitutionalist agency here,
was pointed out as justifying the optimism of the last day or two in official circles where it repeatedly has been said the negotiations were proceeding satisfactorily.

Jose Vasconcelos of the Carranza agency who has been mentioned as a probable choice to represent General Carranza at Niagara Falls still is in the city. Louis Cabrera, another agent arrived at New York today on the steamer Olympic from Europe.
Fernando I. Calderon, constitutionalist representative is in El Paso. It has been said that if General Carranza sent representatives to the Niagara conferences those three men
probably will be selected.

Whatever might be the first conditions upon which Carranza would send representatives to the mediation conferences, the fact that he may be willing to send them at all is generally regarded here as a very favorable indication.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—While the Huerta and American delegates to the Niagara conference and the three mediators prepared to enjoy a brief
let-up from their work at an official garden party in Toronto today, President Wilson and his advisers reviewed the progress that has marked the mediation proceedings up to this time and discussed plans for meeting future happenings. The fact that the delegates and the South American envoys did not hesitate to attend the Toronto fete was regarded as emphasizing reports of rapid,
harmonious developments at Niagara Falls.

The president was encouraged by statements that substantial agreement on many of the cardinal points involved in the conference has been reached by the two missions. Hope for an early solution, expressed in Niagara Falls, was reflected in Washington.

International Phases of the Mexican equation—the dispute between Huerta and the United States that led to the occupation of Vera Cruz—actually attracted most attention today, but the ultimate attitude of Carranza toward mediation was not lost sight of. Administration leaders and observers of the situation discussed reiterations of some constitutionalists that Carranza never would parley with the Huerta delegates. That was not considered as a matter of apprehension. Once a protocol was signed between the Huerta and American missions, it was believed, the northern faction might be willing to be represented at the conference, at least to point out their ideas for the establishment of a provisional government.

Some of Carranza's friends who have been closely watching the Niagara proceedings, have intimated that the northern chief would be ready for representation at the conference after his army took Mexico City. Capture of the Huerta capital taken for granted, Carranza remained in close touch with his Washington agents and an early

Leonard Graham Struck
By Automobile and Is Very Seriously Injured

Leonard Graham, head book-keeper for the Newark Printing company, was knocked down by an automobile and seriously injured about 12 o'clock Wednesday noon at the corner of West Church and Ninth streets.
Mr. Graham, who lives in Western avenue, between Ninth and Tenth streets, was on his way to dinner,
and as usual got off the street car at the corner named on the north side of Church street. He started south across the track behind the car, just as an automobile going east on the south side of Church street crossed Ninth at a rapid speed.

The auto struck the unfortunate man, hurled him to the ground and passed over him, and those who witnessed the accident had no doubt but that he had been killed.

Hurried calls were sent in for Doctors J. G. Shirer, P. H. Cosner and the Criss Brothers' motor ambulance,
in which he was taken to the Newark Sanitarium. Dr. Cosner was there in a short time and dressed Mr. Graham's injuries, which are quite serious and painful, but it is hoped not fatal, as he is not injured internally
as far as can be determined now.

There were several bad cuts on the face that required a number of stitches to close; two cuts on the head which had to be dressed, the left arm at the wrist, the elbow, and hand seriously injured and mashed,

and the right leg very seriously cut,
the skin being drawn back and the muscles ground to the bone. There are many cuts over the entire body,
made in all probability by the broken
wind shield of the automobile.

The car which struck Graham was owned and driven by Marion Fay,
a farmer and hay baler living three miles south of Johnstown. He had for his passengers Sylvester Williamson, wife and daughter, and Mrs.
Williamson's mother, Mrs. Eleanor Green, who makes her home with her daughter and is 93 years old and totally blind. Mr. Fay was bringing this party to see the county commissioners about obtaining financial relief for the aged woman, and the entire party is terribly shocked over the sad accident.

It was raining very hard at the time, and Mr. Graham just as soon as he alighted, ran for shelter under the awning in front of the R. A.
Boring grocery, directly in the path
of the automobile.

LAST OF TRIO
WHO BROKE JAIL
CAUGHT HERE

Jack Wheatley, Wanted On Grand Larceny Charge, Re-arrested
After Two Years of Liberty.

Jack Wheatley, who with Earl Rouse and Ambrose Nye, escaped from the Licking county jail two years ago, was taken in custody here Wednesday forenoon by Sheriff Sla-baugh. Wheatley is under indictment on a charge of grand larceny.
Sheriff Slabough was notified of Wheatley's presence here when the police department received a tip to the effect that he could be found at the rear of 120 Walnut street.

The sheriff, accompanied by police,
hurried to that address in an automobile and placed Wheatley under arrest and lodged him in the county jail.

Wheatley is a circus acrobat by profession and is said to have jaunted pretty thoroughly over the country
since his escape from the Licking county jail two years ago. He was indicted by the grand jury of April, 1912, charged with taking a watch and a sum of money from Edward Welch.

FIRE AT DAYTON CAUSED LOSS OF OVER $100,000

DAYTON, May 27.—Fire of unknown origin early this morning threatened the entire block surrounded by Second and Third streets on the north and south, Canal and Madison on the east and west and resulted in a loss estimated at over $100,000.

The greatest damage was done to the building and plant of the Apple Electric company, manufacturers of storage batteries and automobile self starters, and the J. D. Whitmore coal company's barns. Several other small buildings were destroyed.
Eleven fire companies controlled the blaze after a hard fight.

MRS. PANKHURST
RELEASED AFTER
"HUNGER STRIKE"

LONDON, May 27.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the militant leader was again released from Holloway jail, suffering from the effects of a "hunger strike." She had refused to eat from the moment of her arrest, during last week's raid by the suffragettes on Buckingham palace.

CHURCH LIBERALS CLAIM A VICTORY

KANSAS CITY, May 27.—Commissioners to the general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States (Southern Presbyterian) in session here, who are inclined to hold liberal views, assert that several actions taken by the assembly are victories for their wing of the church.

They point to the action yesterday
in allowing the ruling boards of the various churches to choose between fermented wine and grape juice.

HAMEL SAVED BY A FISHING CLUB

NEWCASTLE, Eng., May 27.—The Evening Mail says that Gustave Hamel, the British aviator who had been given up for lost in the English channel, landed today from a fishing boat at South Shields.

Hamel left Lecroty France, on Saturday morning last in a new machine to fly to Hendon, England. As he did not arrive it was supposed that he had met with an accident
while crossing the English channel and a swarm of torpedo boats spent several days in searching for traces of the mission aviator.

Last night, the English admiralty
the French navy and the United States
suspended the search and had abandoned all hopes for Hamel's safety.
Hamel a few days ago had announced his intention of attempting to cross the Atlantic in an aeroplane
next fall.

COMMISSIONERS TO UPHOLD THE ARMS OF CHURCH

CHICAGO, May 27.—The report of the board of home missions, expected to develop the sharpest contest of the Presbyterian general assembly, brought into the convention here today the full concourse of more than 900 commissioners.

With the single purpose of upholding the arms of the church but with divergent views the commissioners gave unusual earnestness to the opening devotions before plunging into the main business of the day.

The desires of the commissioners who for years have been working for a change were expressed last night
by Dr. Charles L. Thompson, secretary of the board for many years,
in an address at the popular meeting on board.

"Our great need is standardization of our home mission work, reconstruction of the organization and its adaptation to the progress of the country," said Dr. Thompson. "The bell has rung and the whistle has blown and it is time for all to get on board."

The Rev. Dr. Warren H. Wilson, secretary of the department of the church and country life, a department which a section of the assembly for several years has endeavored to have abolished, defended the work of his committee.

In anticipation of a strenuous debate virtually all the morning session was assigned to the home missions report.

MEDIATORS
IN TORONTO
FOR PARTY

Given In Honor of the Governor General
Of Canada

SUSPEND WORK FOR DAY

But Envoys and Delegates
May Hold Informal Discussion Anent Mediation Problem—Huerta Will Abide by Program.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., May 27.—The mediation body composed of the South American envoys and the American and Mexican delegates, suspended their work here today to attend a garden party this afternoon
in Toronto in honor of the government of Canada. His royal highness, the Duke of Connaught, the Duchess and the princess Patricia,
will be present. Sir John Gibson, Lieut. Governor of Ontario, is to be the host. The mediation colony prepared to leave here early and will return tonight. Enroute they probably will have some informal discussion about the mediation problem.
No regular conferences are contemplated.

As the party left for Toronto, the first break from almost continuous labor, it was evident that all were highly optimistic.

With the land question satisfactorily adjusted, the mediators and delegates were concentrating their attention on the exact manner in which a new provisional government might be set up to succeed the present regime. That General Huerta has formally indicated his willingness to abide by the program
thus far outlined here is no longer doubted.

The effort now is to arrange a change of executives in a dignified manner. The mediation conference in all probability will not choose a provisional president. This will have to be done by the Mexico City government itself. But the process which is receiving consideration is the drawing up of a list of Representative Mexican from which a certain number might be approved by the United States and all parties concerned so that there would be no question about recognition being accorded the individual chosen therefrom. This select few, it is said, will be submitted to the constitutionalists
and an effort also will be made to obtain the viewpoint of the Zapatista element. Ultimately it is the aim of the mediators to see installed a man acceptable to all factions. On these issues the mediation conference is preoccupied at present but indications point to an early agreement on all points or differences as well as the selection of the individual upon whom will be placed the burden, for carrying out the plan
for electoral and educational reforms.

No one of the official party was here to receive the announcement
from Washington today that the representatives of the constitutionalists had taken steps to reopen the question of representation in the mediation. When rumors to similar effect were circulated several days ago the mediators were not at all enthusiastic about it and it was evident that the constitutionalists could only be received on terms originally laid down by the mediation board.

Although there have been no declarations on the subject it is known that one of the primary objects of the conferences here is to prevent if possible, the despoiling of the country
by a victorious constitutionalist force.

VISITING AT TORONTO.
Toronto, May 27.—The "A. B. C." mediators and the United States and Mexican delegates arrived here shortly before noon today and immediately proceeded to the King Edward hotel. They return to Niagara Falls this evening.

Motorcyclists Dash
Into Loaded Wagon;
2 Dead, One Dying

CHICAGO, May 27.—A man and a woman were killed and another man was probably fatally injured here
today when two motorcycles dashed into a loaded wagon. Adolph Maspos, first ran into the rear of the wagon
and while the driver was carrying the unconscious man into a drug store, leaving his wagon standing in the middle of the street, the second machine crashed into the wagon. The riders were Edward Bomar and Marie Klerna. Both were killed and Maspos is not expected to recover.

Marie's sister, Virne, riding with another man was saved when they saw the lantern of the wagon driver returning to his horses unaware that a second machine had run into his vehicle in the dark.

C. D. B.—While we have requested contestants not to send any solutions before June 1, perhaps 50 or 60 bundles of answers have been received. Solutions may be sent as late as June 10. These packages are being placed in the large vault of the Newark Trust company for safe keeping.

Contestant—The answers to the Advocate contest pictures are in sealed envelopes numbered from 1 to 70 and all of the envelopes are in a waxed and sealed package and are securely locked in the large safe of the Home Building Association. The judges will open this package and the envelopes on June 11.

HUERTA

statement of his intentions was not unexpected.

The mediators and the delegates, according to assurances that reached here did not intend to abandon their work for the day. Informal discussions were to take place during the journey between the border and Toronto. Just how far they had proceeded in their conferences over actual terms and details of many things considered necessary for the pacification of the southern republic was not revealed in Washington, but the optimistic attitude of the mediators and the members of the opposing missions was reflected by officials here. President Wilson and cabinet members were decidedly hopeful. That the preliminary basis for peace, believed to be maturing at the conference soon would take the form of a protocol, was not an unexpected development.

COMMENCEMENT OF OHIO NORTHERN

(Associated Press Telegram)
Ada, Ohio, May 27.—Attracted by the chance of meeting old classmates, crowds of Ohio Northern Alumni are flocking back for commencement. The picturesque annual military contest between the companies of the cadet battalion is today's feature. Tomorrow is commencement proper, followed by the cornerstone of the Lehr memorial, a building in honor of venerable Henry S. Lehr, founder of the university. Congressman Frank B. Willis, one of Lehr's pupils, delivers the stone laying address. Max Pam of New York talks to the graduates.

IF SKIN ITCHES AND BREAKS OUT APPLY SULPHUR

Get ounce of bold-sulphur cream and heal Eczema eruptions right up.

For years, common bold-sulphur has occupied a secure position in the treatment of cutaneous affections, by reason of its parasite-destroying property. It is not only parasiticidal, but also anti-pruritic, antiseptic and remarkably healing in irritable and inflammatory conditions of the skin.

The moment you apply it to an itching or broken out skin the itching stops and the healing begins, says a noted dermatologist. Just common bold-sulphur made into a thick cream effects such prompt and remarkable results, even in aggravated Eczema that it is a never-ending source of amazement to physicians.

While not always establishing a permanent cure it never fails to subdue the angry itching and irritation and heal the Eczema right up and it is often years later before any eruption again appears on the skin.

Any good pharmacist will supply an ounce of bold-sulphur cream which should be applied to the irritated or inflamed parts, like the ordinary cold creams. It isn't unpleasant and the prompt relief afforded is very welcome, particularly when the eruption is accompanied with itching.

PROPOSED CAMP DECLARED OFF

The possibility of war and disease has caused the proposed trip of five thousand Corn Boys to Columbus to be declared off. Dr. E. F. McCampbell, secretary of the State Board of Health, has advised the Agricultural Commission that it would be dangerous and unwise to attempt to camp five thousand boys in Columbus, during the coming State Fair. Adjutant General Wood has also advised the possibility of war in Mexico, has made it necessary for him to hold in readiness for military service, all National Guard equipment, and therefore he is not in position to provide tents, cots and blankets for camping the Corn Boys.

Without the approval of the State Board of Health, and without the assistance and camping equipment of the Ohio National Guard, the Agricultural Commission is unwilling and unable to undertake the task.

The Courts

Real Estate Transfers.

Lucy M. Geiger to Sarah E. Coggin, two lots in Tallmadge Place addition; $1, etc.
Emma Rolfe to William H. Moore, property in Newton township; $1, etc.

Frank E. Slabaugh to the Johnstown Building & Loan Association company, lot in Jackson street, Newark; $344.

Justice Jones Court.

After opening statements of attorneys had been made in the case of the state of Ohio vs. Oliver Holtzberry of Buckeye Lake, in Magistrate Jones' court, Wednesday, an affidavit for change of venue was filed. Holtzberry is charged by one of the state fish and game commissioners with having in his possession illegal fishing devices. In the original papers filed a flaw was found in the affidavit and the case dismissed. A new affidavit was filed and Magistrate Jones continued the case until 4 p. m. Wednesday.

Case Continued.

The case of the state of Ohio vs. Ray Loughman, South Second street, restaurant charged with selling adulterated milk, was set for Wednesday afternoon in Magistrate D. M. Jones' court, but was ordered continued for two weeks, until June 10, on account of illness of a material witness for the defense.

Complaint was registered against Loughman by a state food inspector three months ago.

COMMITTEE MEETING.

The General Memorial committee meets Thursday evening at 7:30.

NICE SUM REALIZED.

It is probable that about $150 was netted by the presentation of "The Rivals" by Miss Florence King under the auspices of the Monday Talks. Out of this sum the expenses will have to be paid and it is possible that about $85 will be the amount cleared for the benefit of the Public Library.

CONAN DOYLE ARRIVES.

(Associated Press Telegram)
New York, May 27.—Sir Conan Doyle, the British novelist, accompanied by Lady Doyle, arrived at New York on the White Star liner Olympic today.

Told All He Knew.
Pett Ridge, the English humorist, told a story of two American ladies who boarded one of the old horse omnibuses in London and, having settled down on the front seat on top, proceeded to bombard the unfortunate driver with questions about the places they were passing.

The driver reached the limit of his patience in Trafalgar square.

"Look here, ladies," he exclaimed as he started his horses up the hill toward Charing Cross road, "that's the monument to Nelson on the left. St. Martin's church is 'ere on the right. Farther on we pass the Garrick and Wyndham's, the back entrance to the Alhambra and the Hippodrome, a big 'igher up, it all goes well, the Palace; further on we reach the Oxford and the 'Orsebrook. Halfway up Tottenham Court road, if Providence is good to us, we shall see Whitefield's tabernacle and not much then till we get to the Golden statue, 'igher up still the Britannia and eventually the Adelaida, where we stop and go no further.

"And, with a flick of his whip, 'this is the bus, them's the 'orses, and I'm the poor bloomin' driver, and now you know pretty nigh as much about it all as I do!"

Japanese Limburger.

Perhaps the most conspicuous among the Japanese vegetables are the long white radishes, called daikon (referred to by foreigners as the Japanese limburger) highly esteemed and eaten by all classes. When boiled they are not unlike turnips, but when pickled the odor of putrefaction is singularly offensive to foreigners. Slices of the pickled product are served as a relish with every native meal. The beautiful dark violet fruit of the eggplant (nashu) partly cooked fresh in soup or sauté and used instead of daikon is also much esteemed. Several varieties of mushrooms (take) are popular. The decline of Buddhism and the adoption of western customs has wrought a marked change in Japanese diet. Milk, cheese, butter, eggs, bread, flour, fowls, wild game, fish in limitless quantities and the like are consumed by whosoever (outside the priesthood) can afford them—Kansas City Star.

The First Carpet.

The first carpet ever seen in East Hampton, N. Y., was in Parson Lyman Beecher's house. One day a little money came from Uncle Lot Benton, the good angel of the Beecher family. With it young Lyman bought the cotton; his wife, Roxana, spun it, had it woven and painted it over in oil colors, with a gay border round the edge and groups of flowers in the center.

When the new carpet was laid down the people were astounded at the magnificence of the pastor's parlor. Good old Deacon Talmadge, coming one day, stopped at the door, afraid to enter.

"Walk in, deacon," said the pastor. "I can't," he answered, "thout stepin' ont. D'y'e think," he added, in wondering admiration, "ye can have all that and heaven too?"—Youth's Companion.

Fitting Homes to Salaries.

"Buy your house according to your salary."

Larger employers of labor in smaller communities where it can be done successfully are quite generally urging their workmen to buy and not rent homes. In one such plan I notice that no workman is permitted to buy a house under the company's plan which will cost over one-fifth of his monthly wages. The company builds a house for $1,500. It sells this to an employee upon payment of $15 for 100 consecutive months, or an $1,800 house for 100 monthly payments of $18. But the employer will not sell a $1,500 house to a man whose wages are less than $75 a month, or five times the required payment.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Hood of the Maltese Woman.

In his book "The Odd Man In Malta" John Wignacourt describes the ancient faldetta worn by the beautiful Maltese women—a black hood arched over the head with a strip of whalebone and held in place by a hand carrying all the jewelry that is available. "It is worn by the rich when they go to church and by the poor always. *** Its appearance is somewhat somber and depressing, and the efforts to look around the corner cause a great number of the women to be cross eyed. Still, it is a thoroughly ineradicable fashion and has great possibilities, since it is difficult to tell who is underneath it."

The Family Dog.

An Edinburgh clergyman says: "Every family should have a dog. It is like a perpetual baby. It betrays no secrets, never sulks, asks no troublesome questions, never gets into debt, never comes down late to breakfast and is always ready for a bit of fun."

Had Heard of Them.

Bobby (to grandmother)—Grandma, have you ever seen an engine wagging its ears? Grandma—No; nonsense, Bobby. I never heard of an engine having any ears. Bobby—Why, haven't you heard of engineers?—Chicago News.

What Did He Mean?

Wife (at dinner)—Cook left us this morning. Husband—Who cooked the dinner? Wife—I did. Husband—Really? Well, we'll have to get a new cook right away.—Lippincott's.

The Bright Side.

"So your wife has eloped with your chauffeur?"
"Yes, but he wasn't much of a chauffeur."—Houston Post.

GIRL RETURNED TO HER HOME; SENDS THANKS

Came Here As Chorus Singer With Carnival Last Week and Was Stranded.

During the carnival last week, Mayor R. C. Bigbee received a letter from Mrs. John Whitman, of Cincinnati, requesting him to look for her daughter, Dorothy, aged between 17 and 18 years, who had left there as a chorus singer with the exhibition. The girl was easily located and taken before the Mayor to whom she told a very straightforward story of her connection with the show. She said that the man who hired her promised that she would be paid $10 per week and expenses and assured the mother that the show would not get further than 50 miles from Cincinnati. The life was not the easy, care-free and profitable one that had been pictured and she was very willing to be returned home, but did not have the means. She had not received a cent until last week, and then after various charges had been made against her promised salary, she was given $2.90.

The mayor and some others made up the amount necessary to take her home and sent her on her way to Cincinnati.

Wednesday morning, Mayor Bigbee received a very grateful letter from the mother, stating that Dorothy had arrived home safely and was very happy to again be there. She also through her mother wished to thank the Newark authorities for their kindly interest and aid.

The opinion of those who met the young woman here, believed her to be in no way guilty of wrong doing, but simply misled by what she thought would be an attractive life.

"Doing Europe" in Olden Days.

Clare Howard in "The English Travelers of the Renaissance" tells us that the serious aim of the traveler in and before Elizabethan days was to become a "complete person." This could be achieved only by coming into contact with the learning and life of the continent, particularly Italy—the dower of the renaissance—and as the seventeenth century advanced of France, which then became the arbiter of manners. The discomforts, dangers and risks of travel in those days were colossal. The dirty, insanitary inns were death traps, and many an eager tourist lay down with smallpox before he had seen anything worth mentioning.

The term "grand tour," Miss Howard tells us, was used for the first time by Richard Lassels in 1670 in an English book for travelers, entitled "The Grand Tour of France and the Girs of Italy." She traces the causes involved in the decadence of the grand tour, to which the decline of the courtier and the foundation of chairs of modern history and modern languages at Oxford and Cambridge contributed.

Hancock and Gwinnett.

Probably John Hancock is the best known signer of the Declaration of Independence. That is because that patriot was not ignorant of the value of advertising. One has to stand some distance from a framed copy of the Declaration to be unable to read that name; which has passed into our language as a synonym for "signature." There are many signatories of the Declaration who are remembered, many who are forgotten, but Button Gwinnett lingers in our memory. It is not altogether easy to imagine a man named Button by his parents as a patriot and a man of influence. His name was enough to single him out in that sober company. But his fame rests secure on something else. History takes account of men for various reasons, but Button is important because he was apparently cautious about signing his name. His autographs are more valuable today than Hancock's because so few of them are in existence. Perhaps it was hard work for Button to sign his name.—American Boy.

How Tolstoy Made His Will.

How Tolstoy made his will is told in the annual of the Tolstoy society by Alexej Sergejevo, who was one of the witnesses. On July 22, 1910, he was summoned by a lawyer, who said that Tolstoy wanted to make his will without an hour's delay. They rode away at once to the meeting place, a mile from Tolstoy's home. He met them and led the way into a dense forest. "In the thickest part of all," the narrative continues, "we stopped at a big stump of a tree. Tolstoy sat down on the stump, took a fountain pen from his pocket and asked for a sheet of paper. With feet crossed he began to make the rough sketch of his will." It was completed, signed and witnessed then and there, and then he rose, and going to his horse said to me, "How ghastly all this legal business is! With an activity remarkable in a man of eighty-two, he swung himself into the saddle and vanished quickly in the dark greenery of the undergrowth."

The Great Lesson.

"Agatha, love, do you mean to tell me that such a little hat as that cost $27.50?"

"Geoffrey, dear, before you have been a husband many years you will learn the great lesson that the dimensions of a hat afford no criterion for judging the size of the bill."—Chicago Tribune.

Nicely Translated.

A quaint translation is that by the young Japanese, who wished to turn into their mother tongue the English proverb, "Out of sight, out of mind." He evolved a translation which, being construed back into English, read, "The invisible is insane."

Scientific Corn Growing

Plain City, a hustling little town in Madison county, is setting a good example to other communities of the state by encouraging scientific corn growing and incidentally establishing a cordial feeling between city and county folk.

Plain City citizens will spend $1,000 on junior contest work this year. Farmers have joined with bankers and merchants in making up this sum of money to encourage the growing and showing of farm products, and trips to Washington. The mail order business is being chloroformed by town and county working together. The junior contest work wipes out the Mason and Dixon line between town and farm folks. A community, and co-operative spirit is the result.

The Agricultural Commission wants the consumer to appreciate the producer and the producer to appreciate the consumer.

Timely Discussion.

Tuesday evening the last of a series of social events, until after the hot summer months, was given under the auspices of the Trinity Men's club, at which Hon. John H. Clarke of Cleveland gave a most instructive talk on the Panama tolls repeat question which is at present most pertinent and timely. Last month Attorney General Hogan was the speaker and also gave an address upon topics of general interest.

The plan of this club is to be heartily commended and its evolution will make for better citizenship and a fostering of interest among men in events that are making history and are of current importance.

While the club is sponsored by Trinity Episcopal church, the membership qualification are not limited, and any man in Newark is eligible to have his name on the role, and participate in its activities.

The object sought is one that has been highly developed by similar organizations of men in larger cities, and the members of Trinity club de-

May 27 In American History.

1774—Colonel George Washington, with other burgesses of Virginia, formed an association to resent the closing of the port of Boston by England.

1864—The advance guard of Grant's army encountered Confederate forces twelve to seventeen miles from Richmond. Lee had an entrenched line on the north side of the Chickahominy river, fifteen miles in extent.

water commerce, now find themselves on a great world highway. The cost of trans-shipment at the Isthmus has been so large, and the distance by Cape Horn so great, that the traffic of the west coast of South America has been largely by sailing vessel. From Cape Horn to New York is 10 days farther by sail than to the English channel. As a consequence, Chile expects to increase its business with the United States five times.

The traders of Europe will be quick to post their couriers along all these new routes of trade. American business men should also act quickly, and be the first to seize the new opportunities.

Directors Who Don't Direct.

The testimony given by Charles S. Mellen, concerning his relations with the late J. P. Morgan, is an illuminating picture of the way in which big corporations are often dominated by one man.

Although the head of the New York, New Haven, and Hartford railroad, Mr. Mellen could not secure any detailed statement of how $11,155,000 was spent in acquiring a new line. Other directors of the road were also in the dark. They had entire confidence in Mr. Morgan, and did not feel like insisting on definite information.

Ordinary business life does not contain these spectacular instances. Still a great many directors of large corporations take their responsibilities too lightly. Their names give confidence to the public, when their connection with the corporation may be too perfunctory to add strength to the management.

The man who holds directors' positions in a dozen corporations may be strictly honest in his relation to each. But if the stockholders get the notion that a corporation is getting the full benefit of his ability, when it actually gets only a small fraction of his attention and if he is not permitted to know too much of its real workings, the corporation gets an indorsement to which it is not entitled.

Every director should be from Missouri. He owes it to the stockholders and public, to ask a great many questions. If he perceives a tendency to deny frank answers, let him take alarm.

There are too many ornamental directors. There are too many, who having implicit confidence in the man at the head, are ready to indorse any report he may make.

A director should be what the title implies, an active, not a passive force. He should thoroughly understand the affairs of any corporation to which he gives the prestige of his name, and should not take on business positions which he can not fill in this comprehensive way.

For Stomach Trouble.

John W. Skillen of Sidney, Ohio, Has Found a Remedy.

Experts declare that the reason stomach disorders are so common in this country is due to hasty and careless habits of eating. Stomach troubles and run-down conditions usually go together.

John W. Skillen of Sidney, Ohio, says: "I had a bad stomach trouble for years, and became so weak that I could hardly walk or do any work. My appetite was poor, and it seemed impossible to get any relief. Since taking 'Vinol' I find a remarkable improvement in my health, my digestion is much stronger, and I have gained in weight. I would not be without 'Vinol'."

Vinol makes weak stomachs strong because it strengthens and tones up the weakened, tired and overtaxed nerves of the digestive organs. Vinol is easily assimilated by the weakest stomachs, and is delicious to the taste.

Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you. Frank D. Hall, Druggist, Newark, O.

Who Is the Vision?

It was that distinguished former Republican Albert J. Beveridge, who quoted in his speech in January the Solomonic proverb, "Where no vision is, the people perish." The talented Indian paraphrased by affirming that numbered must be the days of that political party which had no vision. Those remarks were directed at the Republican party, which Beveridge knew as one who had viewed it from without and from within. From the platform at the Republican convention of 1912, where the force of a brutally operated patronage machine defied the will of the majority of the voters, as well as in the inner portals of the United States Senate, when that body was a "millionaire's club," he had seen the Republican party. What man could more truly say that it lacked vision?

But perhaps we are too severe on our troubled adversaries. Today they are looking for a "vision" and it is significant that the choice is limited to what honest citizens might call nightmare. Who is to supply their vision?

Shall it be Joseph Benson Foraker, whose vision may possibly be John D. Archbold and Standard Oil? Shall it be a fifty-year franchise? The question is, pertinent at a time when Foraker is the leading candidate for Senator in the Republican camp.

Shall it be Warren G. Harding, an excellent gentleman personally, who, however, not so long ago paid "deference and devotion" to George B. Cox? Is he the vision?

Shall it be Isaac B. Cameron or the little black satchel that carried the state funds on their semi-occasional visit to the State Treasury to be counted? Is Mr. Cameron the vision?

Is Charles W. F. Dick, of Akron, the oiler of the Hessian machine of years gone by, the supplier of the vision?

Who then shall it be? Go through the list of the men first and foremost in the Republican party today. Who shall furnish a broader outlook? There is not one who did not in the most recent years "stand by" while looters were at work in the statehouse.

By whom was a protest filed in those halcyon days of public plunder? The people have a right to an answer today. Did those who now seek to wrap an air of sanctity about themselves take a hand in driving the grafters from the temple of the state? Why when Judson Harmon and Staley Creamer started in Ohio six years ago to make "scoundrelism odious" what did the so-called leaders of today do? On every hand they joined in the defense that the treasury grafters sought. Where is there a single utterance of any one of them crying out against the black demon of graft that was eating its way into the very heart of Ohio?

Talk about a chastened party! That men should have the temerity to suggest such a thing astounds even the uninitiated. Where was the vision of Frank B. Willis? Who heard his stentorian tones in denunciation of the Camerons and the others? Where was David Tod? The public has a right to know. Where was the Tod "vision" in those days?

And Beveridge says that "where there is no vision, the party must perish."

The Jingo.

The publishers of yellow papers cut up all kinds of jingo capers, and naught can make them cease; for gory war they wildly clamor, and use the bludgeon and the hammer on all who stand for peace. To sell more papers they'd be willing to see the nation go forth spilling its own and others' blood; they'd stir old hates and make them hotter, and nag our statesmen on to slaughter, and stain our flag with mud. They care not for the hopes of others, nor for the tears of wives and mothers, nor for the swaths of dead; to boost a frenzied circulation they would embroil a peaceful nation and stain the green sod red. When next the country calls for fighters we ought to see that martial writers are in the foremost rank; we ought to place them where the foe men can shoot each one in the abdomen—each other name for caper! I'd like to see these brimstone eaters go forth with cleavers and repeaters to slay the dusky Nix; to see them through the desert drilling and forced to take a hand in killing till blood ran down their necks. Though they are fat and feeble-wristed, the whole blamed bunch should be enlisted and trotted to the front; before a mile of ground they'd covered they'd wish the White Dove o'er them hovered—they'd cuss the warlike stunt.

ROLPH-COLLINS.
At six o'clock this evening the wedding of Miss Frances Collins daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard F. Collins and Mr. Thomas Willett Rolph of Cleveland will take place at the Collins home in Hudson avenue.

The entire lower floor has been given over to the decorations and pink and white will predominate in all the rooms. Palms and ferns will fill every available space, and over this will be a mesh of pink and white roses. In the living room, an improvised altar has been erected, of smilax and other greenery, and this will be filled with great masses of rosebuds. Surrounding the altar will be the cathedral candles.

The wedding march will be played by Miss Florence King and two ushers, Robert Hayes of Chicago and Leroy Doane of Cleveland, will precede the bride, forming an aisle through the rooms with white sash ribbon streamers. The matron of honor is a sister of the bride, Mrs. Edward Kibler, Jr., while the maid of honor is Miss Annette Besuden. There will be two bridesmaids, Miss Hazel Altshool and Miss Marian Weiant. At the altar, the groom attended by his best man, Dr. Donald Rolph of Ithaca, N. Y., and the minister, Rev. Don Tullis, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church will meet the bride party.

The bride's gown is of white champagne with a tulle overdress of shadow lace. The blouse is constructed of the shadow lace and champagne and trimmed with Rose Point lace. Her veil is of the finest of tulle and caught with a Juliet cap fashioned with orange blossoms. The bride bouquet will be of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Edward Kibler will wear cream-satin with a Russian tulle of lace, caught with a tiny cluster of pink roses. Her bouquet will also be of pink roses.

Miss Besuden will wear an embroidered robe of white chiffon, while Miss Altshool and Miss Weiant will wear lingerie gowns of white and all the gowns of the attendants are fashioned with pink sashes finished with huge butterfly bows, and all will wear caps of pink with white lace, and carry pink roses.

The ring service of the Presbyterian church will be read by Rev. Mr. Tullis.

Carrying out the color scheme of pink and white, the bride's gifts to her attendants were friendship pins handwrought in silver and pink tourmaline. The groom's gifts to the ushers and best man were gold tie-clasps.

The wedding dinner will be served at the conclusion of the ceremony. The bride table has been placed in the library and there fourteen guests will be seated. The table will be centered with the bride's cake and baskets of pink roses will grace the table and encircling these will be pink candles in crystal holders. The favors are miniature baskets of pink filled with pink and white confettions. The guests at the bride table will be: Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rolph, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kibler, Jr., Misses Annette Besuden, Hazel Altshool, Marian Weiant, Juliet Besuden and Helen Spangler of Zanesville, Dr. Donald Rolph of Ithaca, Robert Hayes, L. C. Doane, Tom Collins and Charles Kibler.

At 9:15 the bride and groom will leave for a trip to New York and Atlantic City. The bride's traveling suit is of rose colored cloth with contrasting hat. They will be at home after July 1, at 30 Hastings Road, Cleveland.

Miss Collins is the younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard F. Collins. After completing her work at the local High school, she attended Denison University and later matriculated at Randolph-Macon College in Virginia. Mr. Rolph is illuminating engineer for the General Electric company at Cleveland and is a graduate of Cornell College and the Boston Technical College.

The out of town guests who will be present at the wedding are Dr. and Mrs. G. W. Stauffer, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Collins and Mrs. Daniel McDonald and children of Akron, Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Spangler and Miss Helen Spangler of Zanesville, Miss Carl Cox Bliss of Columbus, Messrs. Robert Hayes of Chicago, Leroy Doane of Cleveland and Dr. Rolph of Ithaca.

A delightful surprise was given Mrs. Joseph Rolph on Sunday at the home of her mother. The yearly reunion held at Mrs. Mary Untermyer's home (Highland Fruit Farm) was postponed and secretly turned into a surprise on her daughter, Mrs. Joseph Rolph of Thornville O., whose birthday arrived near that of her mother. The relatives and friends arrived early and assembled when Mr. and Mrs. Rolph arrived. The surprise was complete and thoroughly enjoyed by everyone. The day was enjoyably spent in music and singing, and at 1 o'clock the guests gathered under the apple trees and did justice to well filled tables. Many pretty gifts were tendered Mrs. Rolph in remembrance of the day.

Those who helped to make the day enjoyable were: Messrs. and Mesdames Preston H. Fulk, Lorin Dushmer and Frank T. Wilton of Newark, Misses Mary Williams, Gladys Kinney and Alberta DeFries of Newark, Edna Fulk, Lenora Dushmer, Emma and Nellie Untermyer, Messrs. Orrin Kinney and John DeFries of Newark, Harold Fulk, Randall Snell, John Joseph and Daniel Untermyer, Mrs. Mary Untermyer, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rolph. Every one left for home leaving behind best wishes and a happy return of the day.

The C. of I. G. club met last Saturday at the home of Miss Viola Stöpler. After a few hours of sewing, luncheon was served. The members were: Misses Lillian Ruff, Lillian Brown, Catherine Slayter, Mary Verb, Esther Nicholson and Viola Stöpler, the guest being Miss Catherine Stöpler. The club will meet again next Saturday at the home of Miss Mary Verb in Jefferson street.

HUTCHINSON-ELLIOTT.
Announcements have been received by friends in the city issued by Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Galleher telling of the marriage of their daughter Estella Hoffman to Mr. Joseph Elliott Hutchinson, Jr., on May 19. Their at home cards read for after June first at 3513 South Harwood street Dallas, Texas.

The bride has been the guest of relatives in Newark on numerous occasions spending many of her summers with her aunt Miss Jessie Hoffman of Elmwood avenue.

Miss Lenora Phillips entertained with a pretty sewing party on Tuesday afternoon, honoring Miss Mary Follett and Miss Harriet Rusk of Zanesville. The rooms were prettily arranged with flowers and the time was devoted to needlework.

The guests were: Miss Follett, Miss Rusk, Mrs. Fred Warner, Mrs. Frank Douce, Mrs. William Howard of Columbus, Misses Ralph Hutchinson, Catherine Sedgwick, Louise Elliott, Hannah Sullivan, Eleanor Beecher, Mary Mahom, Mrs. Rallie of Zanesville, Misses Elizabeth and Margaret Ayres of Zanesville and Miss Ganavva Smith of Columbus.

The Federation of Women's clubs will hold their regular business meeting Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock in Taylor Hall.

ANDERSON-FOLLETT.
Essentially a spring wedding was that of Miss Mary Louise Follett and Mr. Wayne McVey Anderson, which took place in the Second Presbyterian church on Wednesday morning at 8:30 o'clock. A mesh of snowballs and marquettes was formed over the background of palms and ferns on the altar, and in this bower of flowers, the groom attended by his best man, Mr. Donald Hughes of Dayton, and the officiating clergyman, Rev. Don Tullis, pastor of the church, met the bride party.

Just preceding the service Miss Florence King, organist, gave a most delightful prelude, recital and then turned up the strains of the wedding march. The bride was attended by her matron of honor, Mrs. Jay Cooper, and her maid of honor, Miss Catherine Sedgwick. The ushers were Frederick Hall of this city and Frank Sorenson of Cincinnati and Hugo Seitz of Dayton. The gowns bespoke the approach of summer in the filmy material and soft colors. The bride was gown in white silk crepe, accented with the fashionable puff of Polly Varden crepe. This latter material with its soft pink roses scattered over a background of white, was used in the construction of the blouse with a hat of white lace. With the gown, a hat of white lace, with trimmings of various colors, flowers and lace was worn. The matron of honor, Mrs. Cooper, wore a robe of plaid shadow lace and over this foundation was draped flowered chiffon with touches of green. Her hat was of white chiffon with flowers of pink and green.

Miss Sedgwick's gown was of Nile green plaid crepe, with a panther of embroidered chiffon and with this was worn a hat of white with trimmings of green. All wore Colonia bouquets. The bride's was of sweet heart roses, marguerites and heliotrope while the others were of marguerites and Killarney roses.

Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Anderson left for a trip to Pittsburgh. The bride's traveling suit was of black and white raiting with a black hat trimmed in a large bow of white ribbon.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Follett and for several years has been society editor of the American-Tribune. Mr. Anderson was formerly a student at Ohio State University and is a member of a drug firm at Youngstown, where Mr. and Mrs. Anderson will be at home to their friends after June 15.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Bigbee entertained the members of their Pedagogical club with a banquet Tuesday evening at McDaniel's. The table in the private dining room was prettily arranged with red and white carnations and the following members were present: Mr. and Mrs. Lee Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace B. Melick, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Theis, and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Bigbee.

Miss Frances Collins entertained with a dinner party at the Country club on Tuesday evening. The table was prettily arranged with clusters of vari-colored spring flowers and the following were the guests: Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kibler Jr., Misses Annette Besuden, Hazel Altshool, Marian Weiant, Juliet Besuden, and Ann Zollars of Canton, Messrs. Thomas Rolph, Robert Hayes, Leroy Doane, Tom Collins, Charles Kibler and Dr. Donald Rolph.

Following the dinner the evening was spent in dancing.

Mrs. Jay Cooper and Miss Catherine Sedgwick entertained informally at the home of Miss Sedgwick in Hudson avenue on Tuesday evening, honoring Miss Mary Follett.

Miss Clara McDonald entertained with a party of delightful appointments at her home in Hudson avenue on Tuesday evening, honoring Miss Minnie Brown.

The Unity Sewing club of North street was entertained at the home of Mrs. Titus Hankinson. A dainty luncheon was served and the next meeting will be on June 3, at the home of Mrs. Hayes Hankinson.

TOO MUCH TANGO CAUSES NEURALGIA

Violent neuralgia of the head generally attacks overworked women who lack sufficient sleep, fresh air and red blood. With the prevalent craze for dancing all times and places it is becoming noticeable that women whose blood is thin, become subject to neuralgia when they dance too much and lose themselves of sleep and open-air exercise.

The woman who makes great demands on her strength, either by overworking or overexerting, must keep her blood in condition or suffer. The pain of neuralgia is simply a sign adopted by nature to show that the nervous system is being starved because the blood no longer brings it what it needs. The one great cause of neuralgia is debility with anemia or bloodlessness.

Talks of the Formation and Structure of the Hair

THE HAIR AND SCALP—PART I.

Hair is composed of the same elements that enter into the structure of the nails, that is a certain hardening and modification of the epidermis which in the case of the hair forms little tube-like depressions called hair follicles. These lie in the second skin among the capillary and sebaceous glands which bring them nourishment, and the hair itself springs out of these follicles. Hair is cellular; it grows by the constant pushing up of the cells always forming at the root. There is considerable difference of opinion as to the life of a single hair and it undoubtedly varies in different cases. A healthy hair should live about five years; at the end of it falls out naturally and a new hair springs from the same follicle.

Why Hair Falls.

If hair falls before it is mature, it is due to some weakness of the hair root, insufficient nourishment or possibly the presence of some form of bacteria. This being so, the hair that takes its place in the hair follicle will be equally weak and of short life. A condition of mal-nutrition or persistent disease will result in complete atrophy of the hair follicle which means that no new hair will push out, and complete baldness results.

This explanation of the nature of the hair and growth of the hair shows how necessary it is that the scalp in which the hair follicles are embedded should be kept in healthy condition. A healthy scalp is fat and moves loosely over the skull. It contains a plentiful supply of blood vessels to nourish the hair roots and a surface is free from dandruff or any deposit that may clog up the openings sweat and oil glands with which it is supplied. In this condition the hair will take up the various forces of scalp troubles and learn how to recover and overcome them.

Madame Ise'bell

Mabel D.—The dandruff has come from lack of oil in the scalp. I have been using your hair oil for some time and it has done me a great deal of good. I will be sure to keep it on my scalp and use it on my hair.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's recipe to bring color, lustre and thickness to hair when faded, streaked or gray.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, streaked and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get from any drug store a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," ready to use. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural hair and remove dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur because it dardens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant. Agents, Hall's Drug Store.

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take a glass of Salts before Breakfast if your Back hurts or Bladder bothers you.

The American men and women must guard constantly against Kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid, which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork; become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy; full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid on stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a teaspoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in a mistake by having a good kidney every home, because nobody can make flushing any time.

LITTLE DISCUSSIONS OF LOVE AND MARRIAGE

BY BARBARA BOYD

The Head or Heart, Wife.

The Young Married Woman was looking a trifle troubled.

Grandmother waited, knowing the trouble would soon be aired.

"I wonder if I did wrong yesterday," mused the Young Married Woman, after a little.

"In what way?" gently inquired Grandmother.

"John phoned he wanted to bring a friend to lunch. It was my sweeping day and John knows I always sweep on Tuesday—I can't get my washing done till later in the week—and I told him it would mean I would have to put my sweeping off and upset all my routine for the week, and for him to take his friend to a restaurant. And he banded the receiver up, and last night at dinner was really very grouchy about my refusal. Yet, knowing that I always sweep on Tuesday, and that the whole house is turned upside down, I think it was very inconsiderate of him to expect to bring any one home!"

Grandmother's eyes were a bit quizzical. Then she questioned: "Do you want to be a head or a heart wife?"

The Young Married Woman looked surprised. "I don't just understand," she replied.

"Was the house awfully dirty?"

"No."

"Was it a matter of great necessity that it be swept?"

"One has to keep one's house clean. John hates an untidy house."

"Yes, of course. And good housekeeping is most commendable. But are you going to let your head—your desire for routine and system and order—go to your heart—the desire to be loving and thoughtful and kind—rule your home?"

"My heart, of course," replied the Young Married Woman still looking surprised. "I hope I would never be anything but loving and kind to John."

"Which was the loving thing to do?" relentlessly pursued Grandmother, "sweep your house and have it immaculately clean, or make John happy by graciously entertaining his friend?"

The Young Married Woman looked enlightened. "I never thought of it that way," she admitted. "I just thought how it would throw my whole routine for the week out of joint and that it was thoughtless in John to want to do it when he knew how my work was planned."

"You were seeing only your side, dearie," explained Grandmother. "There is always the other point of view. This friend may have come unexpectedly, or there may have been some special reason why John wanted to bring him home. As a rule, John is not thoughtless, is he?"

"No."

"Then he should have been given the benefit of the doubt in this case. And though John likes a well-kept house, his home stands to him for more than order. He usually takes special delight in feeling he can at any time bring a friend; sure of a gracious welcome and a good meal. Don't ever get so tied up with routine or system that you can't break through it at a moment's notice and, without the quiver of an eyelash, upset your best ordered plans to extend a friendly and gracious hand if some emergency makes it necessary. The wife who runs the home with her head may have a beautifully kept home, but the one who runs it with her heart is sure of a happy one."

Chicago Grain Situation.

(Associated Press Telegram)

Chicago, May 27.—Wheat prices rallied today after early weakness due to lower cables. The upturn came about in consequence of larger receipts on a feeling that the recent four-cent decline had more than discounted all the bearish crop developments in the southwest. Prices opened 1/2¢ to 3/4¢ lower, and then made an all-around gain.

Scarcity of receipts gave the corn market a lift. Scattered rains were only of a temporary assistance to the bears. Quotations here had started 1/4¢ lower, scored a general advance except that May showed a disposition to sag.

Some breaks in the drought tended to ease oats. Moderate support, however, developed on the decline.

Provision prices hardened with an upturn in quotations at the yards. First sales ranged from a shade to 7/8¢ higher and the firmness was well maintained.

New York, May 27.—The comparative strength and activity of today's early dealings were popularly ascribed to the latest turn in the Mexican negotiations, coupled with further encouraging crop advices. London furnished a generally higher level of quotations for our securities and that advance was more than sustained here. Canadian beef was the feature with a few other points and the usual smaller items small fractions. The only noteworthy exception to the rising tendency was New Haven, which yielded a point.

DANIEL McCUNE

The aged veterinarian who was found along the road Monday night suffering with a stroke of paralysis and taken to the Sanitarium in Bazler and Bradley's ambulance, has turned out to be Daniel McCune of Cleveland, He had stayed at the home of Charles Eader, south of town, last Saturday and Sunday, and Monday morning was brought to Newark by Mr. Eader. He is said to be in line to get some valuable property in the Forest City. He is resting comfortably at the Sanitarium.

JOHNSTOWN COUPLE

MARRIED TODAY BY

JUSTICE J. J. HILL

Probate court room was the scene of a wedding Wednesday morning when Magistrate James J. Hill, of Johnstown, performed the marriage ceremony of Clay Sanford and Miss Verla Blamer, both of Johnstown.

After the ceremony they departed for a short wedding trip before returning to their home near Johnstown.

Mr. Sanford is the son of Henry Hoover Sanford, and is engaged in farming. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clem Blamer.

Washing Day in Sicily.

The Sicilians have the reputation of not washing themselves over frequently, but if they are remiss in this respect they more than make up for it by washing their garments—washing, in fact, being a perennial occupation among the women. The songs of the women folk as they scrub the clothes of their husbands and children outside the doors of their homes, if living in a city, or in some brook or running stream if living in the country, are a noticeable feature of lower class Sicilian life. The long spikes on the prickly pear leaves and also plants make splendid natural pegs on which to dry the clothes, and in all the rural districts you will see them thus utilized, but if they do not happen to be sufficiently handy the clothes are often stretched out upon the mountainside to dry. The occupation and recreation of most of the poorer women may be summed up in three words—washing and gossip.—Wide World Magazine.

Greek Meets Greek.

A careful mother whose baby had fallen asleep in his carriage in the park found in seeking to make him comfortable that the sun was shining from one direction and a cold wind blowing from another. After careful consideration and numerous turnings she decided to risk his tightly closed eyes to a little sunshine rather than to expose him to the chilly breeze.

As she seated herself a stern voice spoke.

"I don't know who your mistress is."

It said, "but I shall make it my business to find out and report you to her. The idea of your risking this baby's eyes in that sunshine! I am a doctor's wife."

Several times did the careful mother attempt vainly to interrupt and explain. Then "I am grateful for your interest, madam," she said, "and I happen to be this child's mother. Also, I, too, am a doctor's wife and a nurse as well."

As the stern voice moved on she turned to another careful mother on the bench.

"I knew this court was old," she said, "but do I look as bad as that?"—New York Post.

Deafened by a Fit of Rage.

In Diel's "Life of Beethoven" is the great composer's own story of how he became deaf.

"I was writing an opera. I had to deal with a very tiresome and capricious tenor. I had already written two great arias to the same words, neither of which pleased him, and also a third, which he did not care for the first time he tried it, although he took it away with him. I was thinking heaven I had done with him and had begun to settle myself to something else which I had laid aside. I had hardly worked at it half an hour before I heard a knock at the door, which I recognized as that of the tenor.

"I sprang up from my table in such a rage that as the man came into the room I flung myself upon the floor, as they do on the stage" (here he threw up his arms and gesticulated in illustration), "but I fell upon my hands. When I got up I found I was deaf, and from that moment I have remained so. The doctor said I injured the nerve."

SENIOR CLASS OF HIGH SCHOOL TO GIVE PLAY

"The Maneuvers of Jane," to be presented on the evening of June 9 by the Senior class of the High School, is one of those delightful comedies picturing romance in old England, where, in the mind of the author, Henry Arthur Jones, romance is the most serious business of life.

This play, which is so dramatically chosen by the play committee, stands as one of the best of the modern plays produced by English writers. "Its production," says Hal-Jack, "marks the advance of the English drama from artificiality and narrowness of scope toward a wider, closer relation to life." Henry Arthur Jones with his contemporary Pinero stands as one of the most eminent play writers of modern times.

The manner in which Jane, a high spirited young girl, maneuvers is certain to amuse, fascinate, perplex and captivate the audience from the time the curtain rises. Jane has run away from boarding school with her companion, a young governess, Constantia Gage, who is none the less than Jane, the contrivor of delightful dilemmas and subterfuges that worry their more sedate parents and superiors, but delight the audience.

Last year the Strollers, the dramatic club of Ohio State University, presented "The Maneuvers of Jane." It was one of the greatest successes that this well known dramatic club ever staged. This year this same English play which is having such extraordinary success on this side of the "pond" was presented by the Hilarious Club of Wesleyan University. For years this play has been popular both as professional and a school production. Because of its immense popularity the producers do not allow it to be given without the payment of a royalty of $50.00.

The cast is exceptionally well chosen and for the past several months has been rehearsing under the able supervision of Miss Eunice Thomas of the faculty.

The following is the cast:
Lord Bapchild.....Donald Kissance
Jervid Punshon.....Philip Rhodes
Mr. Nangle.....Wilfred Rawlings
Mr. Pawsey.....Thurman Huffman
Jane Nangle.....Juliet Besuden

TAKES TIME IN NAMING THE NEW BOARD MEMBER

Candidates for the position on the Licking county liquor licensing board made vacant by the death of Dr. J. N. Wright are expecting the appointment to be made now at any moment, since it has been reported it likely will be made the latter part of this week. It is said the state board has chosen to take its time in selecting a man for the vacancy because there is nothing of great importance before the local county board just at this time to require the attention of both members.

The question is frequently asked whether the successor of Dr. Wright will be required to take a civil service examination. "He will not," said O. C. Larason, of the board, Wednesday, "because it is a political office—not more than one member of the board shall be of the same political party—and the civil service law forbids that any questions shall be asked relating to one's political affiliations."

You probably had noticed that the soldier of fortune rarely wins his battle for it.

1. It increases profits.
2. It stops mistakes and losses.
3. It advertises his business and increases trade.
4. It is plainly printed and cannot be changed.
5. It guarantees a printed record of every article sold.
6. It tells the date the sale was made.
7. It protects employees against temptation.
8. It shows which employee is most efficient.
9. It shows in dollars and cents the same amount that is recorded inside the register.
10. It enforces correct records which cannot be lost or destroyed.

If merchants knew of these 10 benefits, they would give N. C. R. receipts for all money taken in.

We make cash registers for 286 kinds of businesses.

The N. C. R. Receipt Benefits the Patrons of Stores in 10 Ways:

1. It prevents customers from being overcharged.
2. It insures credit for all money paid on account.
3. It prevents paying the same bill twice.
4. It shows which clerk made the sale.
5. It stops disputes with clerks.
6. It prevents mistakes in change.

PROGRAM FOR MEMORIAL DAY NEXT SATURDAY

Veterans are busy arranging details for a general observance of Memorial day Saturday. All banks and practically all groceries and stores will be closed for the day, and the day's activities for veterans will start at an early hour.

At exactly 7:30 a. m. the section for Mt. Calvary Capt. John Hiser commanding, and Lieut. C. H. Rosebraugh, will move in automobiles to that cemetery and decorate the fifty-six graves there.

There will be 701 soldiers' and sailors' graves to be decorated here this year.

The column for parade will form on North Second street at 9 a. m. as follows:

- Squad of Police
- Chief Marshal, Capt. W. C. Miller
- Chief of Staff, Capt. C. V. Priest
- Field Music
- Co. B, Old Guard
- Co. G, Fourth Infantry O. N. G.
- Knights of St. John
- Lemon Post G. A. R.
- Union Veterans Legion
- United Spanish War Veterans
- Sons of Veterans
- Buckeye Band
- St. Stephen's Hungarian Sick Benefit Society
- Knights of Columbus
- Other Civic Bodies
- (In Autos):
- Veterans Who Chose to Ride
- Orator of the Day
- County and City Officials
- Lemert Relief Corps
- Daughters of Veterans
- Flower Girls

At 9:15 sharp the column will move west on north side of square and march in the usual manner, around the square and east on Main street, halting at First street to allow the old soldiers to take autos or cars. The column will then proceed to Cedar Hill, halting outside the gate for a few minutes in order to allow those who did not march out to join the column. The march will then be resumed, halting, the first part to the east, and the second part to the west of Mount.

The organizations that are to take part in the decoration of graves will be turned over to Major F. G. Steele, who will conduct the decoration ceremonies.

There are 625 soldier graves scattered over the forty acres of Cedar Hill cemetery, which has been divided into 13 sections, each of which will be decorated by a captain with a lieutenant and detail of men and a lady in charge of a squad of girls.

The Central Station will be at Cross Roads, and Captain George H. Long will be in charge, with Emerson Miller as aide. Each of the thirteen decorating sections will be in charge of a captain and lieutenant with a detail of men, women and flower girls. The divisions will be commanded as follows:

- Co. A—68 graves—Capt. Charles S. Osburn, Lieut. Jos. B. Horner.
- Co. B—63 graves—Capt. Homer D. Place, Lieuts. Carl C. Walker and Russell Rine.
- Co. C—36 graves—Capt. George W. Chase, Lieut. Ernest Crawford.
- Co. D—31 graves—Capt. Charles Walton, Lieut. W. G. Thrapp.
- Co. E—43 graves—Capt. R. M. Davidson, Lieut. Leo Stevens.
- Co. F—36 graves—Capt. D. H. Hollister, Lieut. Russell Long.
- Co. G—45 graves—Capt. Edward Larson, Lieut. Vilas Long.
- Co. H—91 graves—Capt. M. Bausch Robinson.
- Co. I—51 graves—Capt. M. O. Nash, Lieut. Saul Hirschberg, Aid. Clarence Bomer.
- Co. J—55 graves—Capt. Chas. Keltonberger, Lieut. Sylvester Beadle.
- Co. K—44 graves—Capt. C. V. Priest, Lieutenant from Co. G.
- Co. L—36 graves—Capt. George Coulter, Lieut. Fred Mohlenpah.
- Co. M—22 graves—Capt. Quincey Cheadle, Lieut. Julian Long; Aid, Wilbur Grandie.

Ceremony at Pond—Ensign J. B. Crabb.

Reserve—Capt. Elmer E. Blizard. After List of Captains

Each captain after decorating the graves of his section, will march his entire command to Central Station, where the original organization of the parade will reform, take part in honoring the absent dead and army nurses, etc.

The column will then be marched to the Mount and be properly formed for the ceremony there, which will be:

- Invocation
- Reading of Lincoln's Gettysburg Address and Logan's Order.
- Firing Salute by Old Guard and Company G.
- Taps.

The column will then march to the Lake and perform the Naval Service in memory of the sailor dead, buried at sea. Ensign J. B. Crabb in charge.

Memorial services will be held in the Auditorium at 2 o'clock p. m., and the following program will be rendered:

- Assembly..... Field Music
- ..... Miss Stevens and Audience
- Invocation..... Rev. T. N. Madden
- ..... Male Quartette
- Lincoln's Gettysburg Address..... Mrs. H. D. Burch

DRUCO does all any Anti-septic claims to do--does it more certainly--but it also helps nature in her healing process. No other preparation does that.

The minute you apply DRUCO to any wound or sore that moment you are safe from all danger of infection and healing has begun immediately.

DRUCO isn't a "patent preparation." It's absolutely ethical. For years it has been tested in physicians' private practice—and its efficacy proved in thousands of cases—casualty and chronic—and has never failed to accomplish results.

You can use DRUCO freely because it is NOT a poison. It requires no skill. A child can follow the simple directions. You only have to apply it—DRUCO will do the rest.

New Treatment for Hay Fever, Asthma, Catarrh and Head Colds

Vick's Vap-O-Rub Croup and Pneumonia Salve Relieves by Inhalation and Absorption. No Dosing.

When Vick's "Vap-O-Rub" Croup and Pneumonia Salve is applied externally, the body warmth releases vapors of Pine Tar, Camphor, Thymol, Menthol, and Eucalyptol. These vapors are inhaled direct to the lungs and air passages where internal medicines cannot go. They loosen the throat to open the pores of the skin. Then rub Vick's well in and cover with a warm flannel cloth. The next morning the phlegm is loosened, head is clear and in addition the absorption of Vick's through the skin has taken out that tightness and soreness. At all dealers—25c, 50c, and $1.00.

well over the spinal column, thus relaxing the nervous tension. Vick's is not a "cure" for these diseases, but it has at least the merit of containing no harmful habit forming drugs, and it is sold by all druggists on thirty days trial. If it fails to relieve in your case the purchase price will be immediately refunded.

For sore throat, tonsillitis, deep colds, and bronchial troubles, apply hot wet towels over the chest and throat to open the pores of the skin. Then rub Vick's well in and cover with a warm flannel cloth. The next morning the phlegm is loosened, head is clear and in addition the absorption of Vick's through the skin has taken out that tightness and soreness. At all dealers—25c, 50c, and $1.00.

John H. Clark Favors Repeal of the Tolls In Speech Tuesday Night

Hon. John H. Clarke, of Cleveland, a candidate for the Democratic nomination for United States senator, to succeed Theodore E. Burton, addressed a goodly number of men after a supper given in the parish house of Trinity Episcopal church, Tuesday evening, under the auspices of the Trinity Men's club, and came out unequivocally for repeal of the act of Congress, exempting American coastwise shipping from the payment of tolls for the use of the Panama canal, thus aligning himself squarely with President Wilson on the subject.

The speaker had come down from Cleveland upon the invitation of Trinity Men's club, and returned to that city after his address here. He is confident of winning in his fight for the nomination, saying that the sentiment for him is overwhelming in the state, north of Columbus, while in southwestern Ohio there is much feeling the other way.

Mr. Clarke is a man of very pleas-subject after a social meal, instead of hearing the old time humorous after-dinner speech. He then launched into an address upon international subjects, and the proposed repeal of the Panama canal tolls exemption law, in particular.

He began by stating that there was not a nation in Central or South America that did not look with suspicion upon the United States in regard to its foreign policy. He also said that the interpretation sought to be put upon the tolls exemption clause in our treaty with Great Britain had estranged Japan, which was little less than openly hostile to us and that England, and other nations looked upon us as a "treaty breaking" nation. He thought that such a state was unparalleled in our national history, and seemed to indicate that there might be something wrong in our national housekeeping.

Mr. Clarke then gave a review of the history of the Hay-Pauncefote

HON. JOHN H. CLARKE.

ing address, and his speech, while absolutely void of oratorical or rhetorical display, was a masterly exposition of the arguments against free tolls, and was intensely interesting to the audience, his review of the history of the political movements and diplomatic vicissitudes that have been accompaniments of the canal building, being replete with pertinent quotations from past presidents and secretaries of state, showing that it has ever been the intention of these executive and administrative officers of the government from John Quincy Adams to Theodore Roosevelt that the canal should be open to all nations upon an absolute equality, and contemplated no discrimination in favor of the United States.

About 6:15 o'clock those assembled descended to the dining room in the basement and partook of a fine supper that had been prepared and was expeditiously served by the members of the Trinity Sewing circle, an organization of young women which has on several like occasions acted in a similar capacity.

After supper the men again assembled in the parish house and Mr. Roderic Jones, in the absence of the president of the club, Dr. W. A. Funk, introduced the speaker of the evening, Hon. John H. Clarke of Cleveland.

The speaker began by congratulating the men present upon the desire evinced by those present, to listen to a discussion of a serious

DOCTORS USING AMOLOX WITH GREAT SUCCESS

Endorsed by Leading Druggist.

Amolox, the new remedy for eczema and all skin diseases, is curing thousands of cases that have been unable to find relief after trying many remedies. A well known physician, having a patient with a bad case of eczema of the scalp, head almost entirely covered with scaly sores, rapidly becoming bald, reports the case after one week's treatment with the Amolox prescription, that hair had stopped falling out, scalp rapidly healing, and a new growth of healthy hair just starting. Quoting the exact words of the doctor: "That Amolox is great stuff." Amolox is a clean, harmless, penetrating liquid that when applied to the skin, stops all itch and burning instantly. Will permanently relieve all skin troubles—will clear up a muddy complexion, or pimples on face in one night. All sufferers of eczema, salt rheum, tetter, acne, barber's itch, pimples on the face, can give this remarkable remedy a fair trial. If it fails it will not cost you a cent. Money cheerfully refunded by T. J. Evans Drug Store, published by the Amolox Co., Youngstown, Ohio.

Returns to Work.
Mrs. Fannie McKee, clerk at the store of Meyer & Lindorf has returned to work after being absent owing to illness.

At Plymouth Church Tonight.
Rev. Dan Freeman Bradley of Cleveland, one of the most distinguished ministers of the Congregational church, will speak this evening at the midweek service in Plymouth church.

Annual Business Meeting.
The annual business meeting of the Public Library Association will be held Thursday afternoon in the children's room of the Public Library at 3:30. A full attendance of the membership is desired.

County Jail.
The First Congregational church is expected to have a delegation sent to supply music and assist at the service, on Sunday next, at 2 p. m. Will the Christian people just think of the men in their prayers? Robert Northey.

Sunday Evening Services.
On next Sunday evening Dr. L. C. Sparks will speak on the subject of "The Man on the Street and the Church." Dr. Sparks is having great audiences of men at his Sunday evening services and doubtless many will want to hear this discussion. Men who are not in the habit of attending church are especially invited.

Gratiot W. C. T. U. Meeting.
The May meeting of the W. C. T. U. at Gratiot was held at the M. P. U. church. Mrs. M. M. Hamilton led the devotional service. The subject of the meeting was: "Medical Temperance." Some interesting talks were given. The business was conducted by the first vice president. Mrs. Hattie Lawler was elected third vice president.

To Attend Races.
A number of auto enthusiasts from Newark and vicinity have made arrangements to attend the annual automobile races held at Indianapolis this year on Memorial Day. Among those who will go are Fred Leiber and Ernest Thoma will make the trip in the former's machine and Harry Denning of Grandville will take the following party in his machine: Joseph Rhodes, Samuel Morrow and Charles Slack.

Fell In a Faint.
A woman named Martin was seized with a fainting spell this morning about 9 o'clock and fell to the pavement near the Collins drug store. Dr. Carl Evans was soon upon the scene, she was given restoratives and rushed to the hospital in the Bazler & Bradley ambulance, as it was feared she had had a stroke of apoplexy. She soon recovered, however, and went to her home.

EXTENSION OF CITY LETTER CARRIERS SERVICE

Post office inspectors are now making an investigation of the city delivery service by letter carriers at the Newark postoffice with a view to correcting any irregularities that may have crept into that service to better it in whatever manner may be thought for the interests of the patrons thereof. When the attention of the inspectors was called to requests that have been made by persons living on the outskirts of the city for the extension of the service to them, they advised that it is the intention to make an investigation of all such places to which their attention might be called and to recommend the extension to those which meet the department's requirements of good continuous sidewalks, crosswalks at the street intersections, street signs at all street intersections, street lights, house numbers, and where the patrons will provide a suitable mail receptacle at the front door. Any person interested in securing the extension of this service should see the postmaster at once so that it may be called to the attention of the inspectors or their inspection at this time.

RAISED WATER MAINS.

Service Director W. C. Christian has raised the eight inch water main, crossing the creek on South Second street, which has lain in the creek bed, and placed it under the floor of the new bridge. A six inch main still in the creek will also be raised in like manner, and the water flow will not be impeded as heretofore by these pipes.

HEAT CAUSES DEATH.

Philadelphia, May 27.—Continued high temperature in the last 24 hours has caused four deaths and numerous prostrations in this city. At 1 p. m. the government thermometer registered 93 degrees, three above yesterday's maximum.

Street Traffic in Old Time London.
On Jan. 19, 1835, an attempt was made to solve the problem of London traffic by restricting the number of hackney coaches. Charles I. issued a proclamation setting out that "hackney coaches are not only a great disturbance to his majesty, his dearest consort, the queen, the nobility and others of place and degree in their passage through the streets, but the streets themselves are so pestered and the pavements so broken up that the common passage is thereby hindered and made dangerous, and the prices of hay, provender, etc., thereby made exceedingly dear. Wherefore we expressly command and forbid that no hackney coaches or hired carriages be used or suffered in London, Westminster or the suburbs thereof except they be to travel three miles out of the same. And also that no person shall go in a coach through the said streets except the owner of the coach shall constantly keep up four able horses for our service when required."

An Error in Geography.

On one occasion the British lost a point in their war with Russia by reason of an error in their geography. This was when Commodore Elliot had succeeded in blockading the Russian fleet in the gulf of Saghalin, on the east coast of Siberia. The Russians were in a cul de sac, and the British ships waited contentedly for such time as the enemy should venture to put to sea. But they waited in vain, and at last an investigation was made. It was found that the Russian fleet had vanished. While the British commodore waited at the south end of the gulf, the Russian ships slipped away through the shallows at the north end into the sea of Okhotsk. Until this discovery was made the British government had believed Saghalin to be a peninsula. Now, too late, they learned that it was an island, with a very narrow channel at the north end of the gulf running into the sea of Okhotsk.

Digestive Marvels.

An Eskimo has been found—and no very unusual Eskimo at that—who eats, when he can get it, four pounds of boiled meat per day. When an Eskimo can get all he wants to eat he makes a business of it. He doesn't store it in the refrigerator, but in his stomach.

Yet the Eskimo is a healthy creature, peculiarly free from digestive disorders.

A Copenhagen doctor has a subject—he isn't a patient nor a "case," but an exhibit—who is keeping up wonderfully on potatoes and oleomargarine. He eats, it is said, eight pounds of potatoes a day when working hard. He likewise enjoys capital health.

It is strange in view of these two instances that a prominent medical authority should venture to inquire whether many of the rigid rules of physicians who prescribe systems of diet are well founded.—Syracuse Post-Standard.

Willing to Help.

One morning a rather commanding looking woman entered a newspaper office and asked to see the editor. The editor was promptly produced.

"In your paper this morning," said the woman in a cold, hard voice, "you say that Mr. Jones is a bribe-taker, a swindler, a mudslinger and a crook."

"It is a matter of politics, madam," said the editor apologetically. "I am very sorry that we are compelled to make statements of that kind on your account, for I take it that you are a relative."

"I am his wife's mother," answered the visitor, "and I want to say that you haven't told more than half the truth. The next time you want to publish his biography I wish you would send a reporter to me."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

Down His Neck.

An Ohio farmer took his numerous progeny to a county fair in that state. As the party moved about the grounds the father felt his fourth born tugging at his coat-tails. He turned, and the youngster begged him to buy a certain toy.

"Buy it yourself," said father. "Where's the dime I gave you a little while ago?"

"It's down my neck," "Well, shake it out!" "But, father," protested the lad, "I can't. It was in my mouth when it went down."—Youth's Companion.

Queer Habit.

"Has that young man any bad habits?" asked the cautious father.

"No," replied Gladys Jane. "He never goes into a saloon."

"I know. But he looks as if he spent a terrible amount of time hanging around gent's furnishing stores."—Washington Star.

Unruffled.

Master-Mary, I wish you would be more careful. I'm sorry to hear my wife has to scold you so often. Mary—Oh, it's all right, sir. I seldom takes any notice of her.—London Telegraph.

Evasive.

Mrs. Goodleigh (after feeding tramp)—And are you a Christian? Tramp—Well, mum, nobody can accuse me of working on Sundays.—Boston Transcript.

The Return.

Magistrate—If I remember rightly this is not your first appearance in court. Prisoner—No, your honor, but I hope you don't judge by appearances.

There is but one virtue—the eternal sacrifice of self.—George Sand.

STIFF SENTENCE TO LEO SHAUGHNESSY

Leo Shaughnessy who was arrested on three charges of drunkenness, assault on Frank Rodgers and disorderly conduct got a severe sentence from Mayor Bigbee this morning. For drunkenness he was fined $5 and costs and committed to the county jail, for disorderly conduct he was given $25 and costs, while the assault charge was dismissed.

The workhouse sentence was suspended until he serves the jail sentence, when it will begin, and he will have to serve about 70 days in all.

HARDING HAS ENTERED RACE FOR SENATOR

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Marion, O., May 27.—Former Lieutenant Warren G. Harding of this city has cast his hat into the ring and is now an avowed candidate for United States Senator.

Mr. Harding made his formal announcement in Cincinnati yesterday after a conference with former Senator Joseph Foraker, the latter also a candidate.

The strongest indorsement of Foraker's candidacy came first from Harding's paper, the Marion Star, and is said to have been the personal tribute to the editor.

Harding returned last night from his visit to Foraker in Cincinnati. At their interview in Foraker's office, which lasted from 2:30 p. m.

WARREN G. HARDING.

until 5:30, Harding went over the whole situation, dwelling with the utmost detail upon the negotiations and conferences which have taken place in the past few weeks in Cleveland and elsewhere.

At the conclusion of their talk, which was more like an intimate tete-a-tete of very close friends, Foraker told Harding that he welcomed with pleasure the rivalry of such a man, but that he would prefer that Burton, Herrick and everybody else enter the race. The primaries were open to every one, and it was a good time to let the people express themselves, he said.

Harding's decision to enter the race for the senatorial nomination was reached at a conference with Dan R. Hanna in Cleveland Monday. His consent carried with it certain conditions. One was that Hanna should not, in his paper or otherwise, make any personal attack upon Foraker. Another condition was that Harding should tell Foraker everything that had occurred at the conferences, and that the formal announcement of Harding's candidacy should be made first to Foraker.

Warren G. Harding may definitely announce his candidacy for the Republican senatorial nomination tonight. Questioned today he said:

"Yes, I met Senator Foraker in Cincinnati yesterday and discussed the political situation in detail with the frankness that is becoming to long time political friends. I told him I was strongly urged to become a candidate and thought I would and would make an announcement in a couple of days. I hope to be able to give out such announcement tonight."

RALPH COLE WILL NOT WITHDRAW

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Columbus, May 27.—Ralph D. Cole, of Findlay, candidate for the Republican nomination for United States senator, gave out a statement today in which he denies emphatically that he intends to withdraw from the fight because of the rumored entrance of Warren G. Harding of Marion as a candidate. Mr. Cole says he expects to be nominated on the strength of his former support of legislation favorable to farmers and laboring men in congress and the state legislature.

FORAKER CONFIRMS CANDIDACY OF THE MARION, O., EDITOR

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Cincinnati, May 27.—Former Senator Joseph B. Foraker, today admitted that he had had a conference here yesterday with Warren G. Harding, the Marion, O., Editor, and that he understood that Mr. Harding would enter the race against him for the Republican senatorial nomination.

Senator Foraker said: "It is true that Mr. Harding was here yesterday to see me in regard to his becoming a candidate for United States senator. I do not feel at liberty to repeat what was said by either, except only to confirm the statement that I have no objection to others becoming candidates. I have not at any time thought to keep anybody out or to bring any body in, but surely I have not at any time thought that anybody should refrain from becoming a candidate on my account. I have not at any time desired the nomination unless a majority of the Republicans of Ohio should desire me to have it. Therefore I think it better for everybody concerned to have everyone present his claims at the primaries who may desire to be a candidate. For this reason I was sorry Senator Burton withdrew from the race."

MARKET OPEN MEMORIAL DAY

A rumor became current this morning that Mayor Bigbee would give orders to close market next Saturday on account of Decoration Day. The rumor characterized by market vendors approached him upon the subject. The market will be open as upon every other Saturday.

SPECIAL VENIRE SUMMONED TODAY IN LEGGE TRIAL

After three jurors had been disqualified, leaving eleven in the panel, a special venire was summoned by Judge Fulton Wednesday forenoon to hear the testimony and evidence in the second trial of Dr. C. P. Legge, charged with having performed a criminal operation on Helen McAndrews, as a result of which, it is alleged by the prosecution, the girl died.

Dr. Legge was tried once before on this charge but the jury disagreed.

The defense is represented by Attorneys J. R. Fluggibon and H. C. Ashcraft, while Prosecutor J. Howard Jones is being assisted by former Prosecutor Phil B. Smythe.

The prosecutor requested the court to have all twelve of the new veniremen report before counsel should begin to call talesmen to the jury box. It is doubtful if the taking of testimony will get far under way before Thursday.

ODD FELLOW OF 87 IS CALLED BEYOND

Infirmities incident to his advanced years caused the death of W. T. Weakley, aged 87, at his home in Nashport Tuesday noon. He had been ill about two months. Mr. Weakley bore the distinction of being the oldest member of Durban lodge, I. O. O. F., of Nashport. He was born in Virginia, but moved to the Nashport vicinity 50 years ago. Four sons and one daughter survive: Mrs. Amos Krueger of Zanesville, Virgil Weakley of Columbus, John of Carthage, Perry county; Frank of Hammond, Ind., and Henry Weakley of Nashport.

Funeral services will be conducted at the Nashport M. E. Church Thursday at 1:30 o'clock.

Mr. Weakley is the grandfather of Mr. Ross Weakley, day clerk at the Sherwood Hotel, and has a large number of relatives and friends residing in Newark.

THERMOMETER HOVERS AROUND THE 90 MARK

Newarkites sweltered Tuesday night. They sought the outdoors and parks, on foot and in automobiles and horse drawn carriages and on street cars, while others tried to keep cool on porches and lawns.

It is believed that the sudden advent of extremely high temperature is causing more suffering than a more gradual rise.

Wednesday morning at 5 o'clock thermometers in the shade registered 87 and 70 degrees, and by 7:30 the mercury had risen to 90 degrees in some parts of Newark.

Farmers and gardeners, who have been deplored the lack of rainfall, found some encouragement in appearance of a few scattered clouds Wednesday, which partly obscured the sun. The weather forecast held out little hope, however, merely predicting cloudiness for Wednesday and Thursday. A light shower of a few minutes duration fell shortly after the noon hour today.
